

The Tobacco Problem!

Those best posted on the tobacco situation have agreed that smaller crops and better quality is the only solution to the problem. What you raise make it good and you'll get a good price no matter what the conditions. You can't raise good tobacco without good plants and good plants can be grown only under Canvas in these days, plentiful in bugs, flies and changing temperature. By a fortunate purchase before the rise in cotton we are able to offer the same prices on Canvas as we had last year, although cotton is twice as high:

Poor Quality, 1 1-4 cents,
Fair Quality, 2 cents,
Good Quality, 2 1-2 cents,
Better Quality, 3 cents,
Very Best Quality, 3 1-2c.

BAPTIST BANQUET.

Nearly Two Hundred Guests Present Last Night.

Brilliant Orators Make Eloquent And Witty Speeches Till a Late Hour.

The banquet to the men of the Baptist church was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever attempted in the city, despite the inclemency of the weather.

Covers were laid for 180 persons and there were few if any vacant seats at the tables. The tables were arranged in four rows running from east to west, with a shorter table across the west end of the room for the speakers and members of the program committee.

The guests assembled in the main auditorium until the hour for the banquet to begin, when the rolling partition was raised and all took their seats at the tables, which were beautifully arranged and decorated by the ladies, who were in the adjoining rooms, directing the corps of waiters.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Chas. H. Nash, presided as toastmaster and called upon Prof. Edmund Harrison, of Bethel Female College, who invoked divine blessing.

The banquet was then served in courses, being arranged to occupy about one hour.

The literary program was then inaugurated by Dr. Nash with a brief speech of welcome to the assembled guests. This was responded to by Mr. Lucian H. Davis on behalf of the members of the church.

The early hour at which the Kentuckian went to press prevents a more extended notice in this issue. The following speeches were made in the order given.

"The Girl and the School," by Rev. T. T. Eaton, D. D., editor of the Western Recorder.

"Boys and Birds," by Prof. W. H. Harrison, President of Bethel College, Russellville.

"Benevolent Orders," by Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville.

"Organized Philanthropy," by Dr. Milton Board, Superintendent of the Western Asylum.

"Olympian Games and Modern Athletics," by Prof. H. Clay Smith, of South Kentucky College.

"The Yankee of the Orient," by Hon. Newton W. Utley, of Eddyville, who was at one time a missionary to Japan.

RIPE IN YEARS.

Mr. George T. Blakey Succumbed To Pneumonia.

Mr. George T. Blakey died at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. T. W. Blakey Tuesday. A short while before he received a fall that confined him to his bed, and later contracted pneumonia, which was the cause of his death.

Mr. Blakey was 83 years of age and was born in Logan county. Most of his long and useful life was spent in that county. He was a man of prominence and high standing, being a leader of the Republican party. He was at one time elected sheriff, overcoming by his popularity a large Democratic majority. He was also a delegate to the National Convention in 1880 and was one of the 306 Grant men who held out until Garfield was nominated.

Mr. Blakey came to this city to live with his daughter two or three years ago and had made many friends who mourn his death.

He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. His venerable widow and three children survive him—Capt. Wm. M. Blakey, of Evansville; Mr. George D. Blakey, of Tulsa, I. T.; and Mrs. T. W. Blakey.

The body was taken to Logan county and interred Wednesday.

OHIO MOB

Lynches a Kentucky Negro In Regular Texas Style.

He Had Killed a Policeman and The Jail Was Stormed.

Springfield, O., March 8.—An enraged mob of nearly 1,000 men last night battered down the doors of the jail and lynched Richard Dickinson, of Cynthiana, Ky., a negro who shot and killed Patrolman Charles Collins yesterday. The jail was thought to be impregnable, but the infuriated mob used railroad irons on the heavy doors successfully. When inside the sheriff and his deputies surrendered in face of such a superior force and the negro was taken to the jail yard and shot to death. The body was then taken to the corner of Main street and Fountain avenue and hanged to a telephone pole, when the mob spent a half hour in riddling it with bullets fired from several hundred revolvers.

GOOD MAN DEAD.

Mr. John M. Dulin's Useful Life Is Ended.

Mr. John M. Dulin, one of the best known Democrats and citizens of North Christian, died at his home near Crofton Wednesday night, about seven o'clock. He had been prostrated for three months with tuberculosis of the throat.

He was born October 15, 1842, on the farm where he died, being the sixth child of a family of nine born to Mr. and Mrs. Rice Dulin. He was married Nov. 4, 1863, to Miss Mary E. Rice, of Hopkins county. Five children were born to this union, but only two survive—Mr. Charles M. Dulin, of Dawson Springs, and Mrs. David Bourland, of Crofton. Other surviving relatives are Van Dulin, Hopkinsville, and Smith Dulin, of Springfield, Tenn, his brothers, and three sisters, Mrs. Lou West and Mrs. Robinson, of Hopkinsville, and Mrs. Fields Rice, of Madisonville.

Mr. Dulin had been a very prominent man in his section of the county for many years. Possessing a strong intellect and a retentive memory, he was wonderfully well informed on county history and the stirring incidents in which the early settlers, of whom his father was one, figured a century ago. He had held several positions of honor and trust, and his official duties were always well and faithfully performed. His last public office was supervisor of county roads, and no man in the county was more familiar with the roads than he. He had for years been a member of the Democratic county committee and represented his precinct up to the time of his death. In 1900 he was the guide for the first "Band Wagon" ever used in a Kentucky campaign, which traversed the remote sections of the county, where a band of music had never before been heard. This idea, of which he was one of the originators, has since been adopted with great success in many parts of the State.

In his death the county has lost a citizen who left his impress upon its history, who died as he had lived, loved and respected by his fellowmen and whose example in all things was worthy of emulation. He was a member of the Christian church and his funeral was preached at two o'clock yesterday by Rev. W. B. Wright. The interment took place at the Clark burying ground.

COULDN'T TALK.

Governor Beckham Could Only Answer Questions.

Believed the Governor Intended Making Charges Against Members of Board.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—Gov. Beckham, Auditor Hager and Secretary of State McChesney, who constituted the old printing board, appeared before the senate committee to investigate the printing contracts this afternoon. The board declined to permit Gov. Beckham to make any statement except to the interrogations put to him. He was interrupted in the middle of a sentence by Senator Carroll and told that he was expected to answer only the questions put to him. It is thought that the governor was preparing to make certain charges against a senator sitting on the board in reference to the printing companies. The committee will finish its work tomorrow and will make a report. Gov. Beckham said this afternoon that the different departments made their own printing contracts. It is believed that the committee will report that there has been negligence on the part of the board in letting contracts. Gov. Beckham was informed that the present committee was not the proper one to hear his charges against a member of the committee. The committee to investigate the charges of bribery will make its report tomorrow. Nothing has been confirmed in the report of the bribery in the Louisville Herald.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Wills of Mrs. Walker and Mr. Boales Probated.

The will of Mrs. M. J. Walker was probated Monday. All of her property was bequeathed to her daughters. Miss Brent Walker, one of her daughters, was named as executrix. The instrument was dated Dec. 28, 1903.

The will of A. G. Boales was also probated this week. To his widow he left the portion of his estate as allowed by law and the rest goes to his four children. The residence is to be used as a home for the family until the youngest child becomes of age. Mr. M. D. Boales is named as executor.

HOT DEBATE

Between Senators Cantrill and Campbell.

Book Measure Finally Put to Sleep By the Senate—No More Night Sessions.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—The discussion over the Campbell amendment to the school book law was very bitter between Senator Campbell and Cantrill, and consumed most of yesterday's session of the State Senate. The body refused to take the bill from the orders of the day, thus practically killing it. The House passed the bills appropriating $40,000 for completing the cellhouse at the Edwylle penitentiary and appropriating $26,000 for improvements at the Frankfort penitentiary. A number of bills of minor importance were passed. The House decided to hold no more night sessions.

Gov. Beckham yesterday signed the bill known as the Louisville "Ripper Bill," giving the Mayor of Louisville the authority to appoint and remove members of his executive boards.

The investigation in the Printing matter will close to-day and a report will be made to-morrow.

TOBACCO NEWS.

Good Sales of Loose Weed and Receipts Increasing.

The sale of loose tobacco on the floor by R. M. Wooldridge & Co. this week was again heavy. There was no change in prices from last week's quotations. The tobacco offered was mostly of inferior quality. Loose receipts have improved greatly in the past few days and another large sale is promised for next week.

There were 41 hogheads sold privately this week and receipts amounted to 60 hogheads. This makes total receipts for the year, 110 hogheads. Sales for the year 553 hogheads.

Father of T. E. Bartley, Dies in Virginia.

Mr. T. E. Bartley received a telegram yesterday informing him of the death of his mother, Mrs. Matilda J. Bartley, wife of Mr. W. O. Bartley, at her home near Orange, Va. She was stricken with paralysis about four years ago and had since been an invalid. The deceased was about 70 years old and is survived by a husband and five children.

She was a sister of Mr. W. G. McGehee, of Gracely, Ky., and the late Albert McGehee, of Simpson county.

BACHELORS CLUB.

The Organization Already Has a Large Membership.

"Friendship For all, Entangling Alliances With None" is The Motto.

Just to preserve what they consider their right to do what they will with regard to the "happy state of connubial bliss," the bachelors living in Milwaukee, Wis., have organized a club known as the Ancient and Accepted Order of Peace Loving Bachelors.

The purpose of the organization is to fight all leap-year proposals.

The constitution declares:

1. The name of the club.
2. The purpose of this organization shall be to protect all members of this club from all written, spoken, suggested or implied proposals or hints of marriage or interferences from any spinster or grass widow that she has an "affinity" for any club member, or any hint, interference or suggestion either open or covert that either a "cozy corner" or a hammock "built for two" would be a good place to while away an hour or so in the gloaming."

3. If any of the contingencies referred to in Article II. of this constitution shall arise in this year's life of any member of this club, whether active or honorary, the club as a body, shall lend its entire aid, assistance, and, if need be, financial help, to freeing said member from such attentions or entangling alliances.

4. Failure of any member to report any such occurrence in his life shall subject said member to a fine of not more than $20 nor less than $10, according to how good looking the woman in the case may be, and to imprisonment in the grillroom for 30 days without a single highball.

5. Grass widows and widowers shall be eligible to membership upon payment of twice the amount of the initiation fee, but they shall be accordingly given double protection in view of the fact that they are thought to be more susceptible to the charms of widowing.

6. The motto of this club shall be "Friendship For All, Entangling Alliances With None!"

The club already has a large membership.

A Labor Leader's Wife.

Mrs. Alice Northup is the wife of the editor of the Chicago Labor News, Quincy, Ill., and is a woman whose devotion to the interest of labor is well known. She makes the following unsolicited statement regarding a well known medicine: Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Gentlemen—I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for more than a year for constipation and indigestion, and consider it a most superior remedy for such ailments. As a laxative it is not only palatable, but has no gripping or nauseating effect, but is very mild.

Yours truly,
MRS. ALICE NORTHUP.

SALARY GRAB.

Bill to Increase Executive and Congressional Pay.

Washington, March 1.—Senator Gallinger today introduced a bill increasing the salaries of the executive officers of the government, and also of senators and members of the house of representatives. The bill which provides the new salaries shall take effect March 4, 1905. The bill fixes the following scale: President, $75,000; Vice-president, $15,000; Speaker of the house of representatives, $12,000; Members of the cabinet, $15,000 each; Senators and members of the house, $8,000 each.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Hopkinsville People, and What They Say Is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press are published as facts, people be come skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

John J. Basford, cooper, of 766 East 9th St., says: "My back used to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me, and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at Thomas & Traher's drug store, and after using them a few days could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better now than it has been in years. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills, and strongly recommend them to others."

PRAYER BEFORE SPARKING.

Recommended as Impressive Adjunct to Corporal Punishment.

I was a teacher for many years and am well satisfied that moral education is "in g." for reprobates, says a New Yorker, writing to the editor of the Sun. The best teacher I ever had in country school, one who ruled the great mass of his pupils by tact and love, had to use the rod occasionally. If the present day schools fail to turn out well disciplined scholars—girls or boys—it is due to the absurd prohibition of corporal punishment.

But as "Old Timer" says of Dr. Anthon's discipline, it is wise to leave the ceremony with outlandish. The rod should never be applied in anger. That is sure to defeat the object and no doubt is the chief cause of its prohibition by law. Only in extreme cases should punishment be inflicted on the instant—so to speak. Make such an investigation as is necessary to be sure that discipline is proper, and then appoint a time for it, at least a day later, when any passion that the offense may have caused will be allayed by time and sleep, and when the culprit will have no other feeling than that of the ordeal. The interval between the time of the offense and the execution of the sentence will promote repentance and disarm needless severity. Under such circumstances the culprit will believe, if ever, that the punishment is inflicted for his good and for a sense of duty.

If the teacher is, as he should be, a praying Christian, it is well to precede the ceremony by a brief prayer. It will do no harm and may do great good. The boy must be "tough," indeed, who, after a day or two of meditation on his offense and the coming penalty, the latter preceded by an earnest prayer in his behalf—can go through it all and not be softened into repentance and humility.

"Old Timer" speaks of Dr. Anthon's use of the rattan for bad boys. The rattan is not to be commended—it is too much like a wire. The old time schoolmaster's flat "ruler," made of oak or maple, is better, far better. If the youth is not large, the best mode, so far as my experience goes, is to put your foot on a stool or bench and lay the ruler across your knee, and then apply the ruler to the seat of his understanding. If he howls and kicks, no matter, the pain will soon subside, and in case the ruler leaves an imprint it will be only temporary. Besides, the boy will not be in haste to show it to his father to arouse sympathy—nor to anybody else. It will be "a closed incident."

Occasionally a boy disciplined in this or some other way will vow to take vengeance on the teacher "when he gets big," but when that time comes he looks at the matter in a different light, and is more apt to thank than to try to "kick" his old master. Such vengeance talk depends chiefly on the thoroughness of the flogging. Few boys will indulge in it who are thoroughly mastered by a judicious teacher. Byron, in "Don Juan," canto II, gives this advice:

O ye that teach the ingenious youth of nations, Holland, France, England, Germany or Spain, I pray thee, flag them on all occasions—It mends their morals; never mind the pain.

For the word "all" in the third line substitute "just," and the advice is good.

Famous Stamp Collection.

The magnificent collection of postage stamps belonging to the trustees of the British museum in 1891 by the late Mr. T. K. Tappin, M. P., can now be seen in its entirety by the general public. The very rare and highly valuable stamps will be shown only on special application and under certain conditions, but they do not amount to many, probably about 100, including such philatelic treasures as a pair of the famous "post office" Mauritius stamps, valued at something like £3,000. A specimen was lately sold in France for £1,500.

CLEVER RUSE OF A CAT.

How Mix Impersonated Tabby and Fooled Her Mistress.

If it be true, as human experience seems to have proved, that it is better to love anything than nothing, the sentiments of a lady of Richmond, S. C., with regard to her cats are justifiable, says the New York World.

This is saying a good deal, for she is so devoted to them that it seems she cannot have enough of them, and not only cooks regularly and carefully for them the food of which cats are fond, but the particular food to which each cat of her establishment is devoted—feeds them as conscientiously as she could were they children of her own species and goes to all manner of other trouble for them.

For instance: To a free every morning very early there comes an old cat—Tabby—and meows. The mistress of almost any other human being being this would bring at least antagonistic feelings, words which would not be used were it known that another human being were within hearing and a missile to the hand, but it causes Tabby's mistress to arise and let her in.

The lady is so attentive to her pets that she knows the voice of each of them. To this hangs the story.

One morning the meow came as usual, but it was not the meow of Tabby. Could it be that of Mix, who, much to the grief of the mistress, had disappeared some three months before?

It did not take the mistress long to get out of bed, raise the blinds and look out.

There, in the tree, was Mix, sure enough.

Hurrying downstairs the mistress opened the front door.

Mix rushed in, leaped and scrambled to her mistress's breast, threw paws about her neck, rubbed a cheek against her cheek and did more than purr—made a great effort to tell how much she was loved, and how she had been longed for and what pleasure there was in getting back to her.

When she had eaten a hearty breakfast, which was at once set before her, Mix again went to her mistress, again leaped and scrambled to her neck, again more than purr—seemed again to be trying to say something in a tone different from that which she had used before, to be trying to tell why she had been away, where she had been and what she had suffered.

It may be just as well that she was not understood, else the mistress might have been disposed to wreak vengeance on some one or insist that some time of her human or feline friends was weak for her.

But can it be doubted that Mix had had an interview with and been understood by Tabby?

On what other ground can one account for her having occupied Tabby's maternal place in the tree, to the awakening of the mistress?

VALUE OF TRAVEL.

Helps Us to See Ourselves as Others See Us.

There is no study so fascinating and so profitable as the study of the peoples of the earth, says the Four-Track News. In the mirror of mankind we can best see ourselves, and by the rules of comparison and of contrast view our own strength and weakness; our own commendable traits and deplorable faults. The man whose ethnological education, gained by actual contact with different nationalities, places him in command of this knowledge is best equipped to master many of the problems of life, and especially to comprehend all great international questions. Pope tells us that "the proper study of mankind is man," and that man who has carefully studied mankind is the man whom other men most desire to meet. The traveler who has seen and studied the different nations of the earth is never at a loss in an audience, and if he has had the desire and the capacity to look below the surface for the causes which have produced national effects, he can command the earnest attention of all thinking men. By travel we do not only see other nations and read their history in the lives of the people themselves, but we learn to more correctly estimate our own position in the family of nations by seeing ourselves as others see us.

MAN AND THE GORILLA.

Scientist Contends That They Are Not of Same Family.

Prof Darwin's theory that man originally descended from the ape was contradicted recently by Prof. Chapman in a lecture given in the Academy of Natural Sciences, says the Philadelphia Ledger. One of the rarest and perhaps the finest collection of anthropoid apes in the world, five in number, presented to the Academy of Natural Sciences in Philadelphia, by Dr. Thomas Biddle, who secured the collection from the Hamburg museum, was on exhibition.

Prof. Chapman made a minute comparison of the anthropoid ape's anatomy with that of the human being and said that the gorilla more closely resembled man in its physical make-up than the others. The bones of the gorilla's paws or hands, he said, were similar in a great many respects to those of man, while the animal was also equipped with a score or more of muscles found in the human body. At the same time there were many important discrepancies between the two. He disputed the opinion of many scientists who asserted that the gorilla had four hands, by saying that it had really only two hands and two feet, although all four, he said, were frequently put to the same use. In all, he said, there was to some extent less difference between man and the gorilla than there was between the Hottentot and others of that class and the perfectly developed man of today.

One of the salient features which showed the important differences between man and the gorilla, Prof. Chapman continued, existed in the fact that, while man possessed the long finger in his thumb, the gorilla was minus such an accessory. There were 30 or more points of great difference between the two, proving undoubtedly that man had come by the same from the rudimentary period.

In referring to the inability of the gorilla to talk, Prof. Chapman accounted for it by saying that a hollow in the front of the ape's brain, together with the animal's inability to control its nerve centers, probably accounted for its being incapable of exercising its vocal organs. In conclusion the professor said:

"If we could concentrate into one animal all of the monkey's peculiarities or traits in which he resembles man we could find no basis for comparing him with man."

THE MADNESS OF HOOPS.

Ridiculous, Fashions in Dress of Forty Years Ago Recalled.

Dress reformers who think that women's garments still do not conform to good sense and hygiene surely have forgotten what they were 40 years ago. Jusula McCarthy, in some personal recollections published in Harper's Magazine, describes women's dress in the early sixties in terms that are not exaggerated, as those who are now becoming elderly will testify.

If those years had not been so rich in claims to historical recollection, he remarks, crinoline would yet have secured them an abiding place in the records of human eccentricities.

No one who has not seen it can have any idea of the grotesque effect produced on feminine costume by this one article, the hoop. It defied caricature because the reality was more rich in burlesque effect than any pencil could possibly realize. A whole school of satirical humor was devoted in vain to the ridicule of crinoline.

The boys in the street sang comic songs about it, but ladies walked unmoved, monopolizing the pavement. It was a strange madness of fashion, and like a fever, it had to run its course.

Professional Dinner Taster.

A most curious occupation conceived by a woman is that of a dinner taster. She spends a part of each day visiting houses and tasting dishes intended for dinner.

She suggests improvements and shows the cook new ways of preparing dishes.

Charity.

It is well enough for charity to begin at home, but it has no excuse for sitting down there and going into a trance.

DUDE RANCH

In North Dakota Sold to New Yorker for $30,000.

Was Once Used With Success

For the Reformation of Eastern Young Men.

Many a son of a well-to-do family in the East will read with interest the announcement that the Eaton ranch at Medora, N. D., once well known as the "dude ranch," has been sold, says a Lincoln, Neb., correspondent. The purchaser of this property is a New Yorker.

The ranch is situated at the crossing of the Little Missouri River, along what is known as the Custer trail.

The first owners, the Eatons, came from Pittsburgh.

For a number of years they engaged in the buying of wild animals, such as bear, elk and deer, for Eastern parks and menageries.

It was a profitable occupation, buffalo being carried for a time as a side line.

While one of the Eatons was paying a visit to his home in the East, an old friend asked him as a personal favor, to take charge of his wayward youth, in the hope that in the West, away from metropolitan temptations, he might make a man of himself. Eaton readily agreed.

This gave him an idea as to the possibilities of the dude ranch.

Many Eastern families of wealth had sons who were giving them more or less anxiety and worry at home, and a summer in the West appealed to them as a good thing. Thereafter, the Eatons looked out for such visitors.

The young men looked upon it as a great lark, and came West in droves. The Eatons boarded them, furnished them with horses, guns and all necessary accoutrements and organized personally conducted excursions in the way of hunting, game riding, roundups and the like.

Upon the range they erected a great, long building, divided by partitions into small rooms, in each of which was a bunk and whatever furniture was necessary. This became known to the cowboys as the "dude pen," and here the visitors slept.

Sometimes one summer was enough for them, but some of them remained, secured capital from home and they are among the substantial men of the state. They were a constant source of amusement to the cowboys of the range, largely from their fondness for immense hats, big revolvers, rattlesnake belts and leather "chaps."

Hundreds of young men got their only taste of the life of the range on the Eaton ranch, but in time the supply of young men ran short and in recent years the place has been devoted to the more or less prosaic life of the region. The place brought $30,000.

Gives Health, Vigor and Tone.

Herbina is a boon for sufferers from anemia. By its use the blood is quickly regenerated and the color becomes normal. The drooping strength is revived, the languor is diminished. Health, vigor and tone predominate. New life and happy activity results. Mrs. Bell H. Shirel, Middlesboro, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint and poor blood, and have found nothing to benefit me like Herbina. I hope never to be without it. I have wished that I had known of it in my husband's lifetime." 50c at R. C. Hardwick's.

The insurance companies have been hard hit this year. They lost in January $21,790,200 and in February, including the Baltimore and Rochester fires, $90,051,000. During February there were 288 fires, destroying more than $10,000.

Capt. Algeon Sartoris, a grand son of Gen. U. S. Grant, has gone to Paris to wed Mile Jermin Cecil Nouffard, a noted French beauty. In order to do so he was recently received into the Catholic church. Capt. Sartoris resigned from the army in 1903 and now lives in Washington.

The Legislature, which started out with such a working record, has neared the end with all sorts of unpleasant rumors in the air. It is safe to say that more reputations have been injured than benefited in political circles by the developments of the last two months. The General Assembly will adjourn Tuesday, leaving a bad smell in Frankfort and causing a sigh of relief all over the State.

The boldness of the Mormon leaders in declaring one after another, in the Smoot inquiry, that they are polygamists with from two to five wives each, is creating a profound impression throughout the country. Smith, Lyman, Merrill and others high in the counsels of the church, have made boastful admissions of their views and practices, the object being to give them the widest publicity in the Congressional Record. Whether Senator Smoot loses his seat or not, there is bound to be a sentiment created against Mormonism by the disclosures of the inquiry that will force Congress to enact more stringent legislation against polygamy.

The Porter Educational Bill is one of the measures passed by the present legislature that will mark a forward step. The Henderson Gleaner says of this author: "Senator J. F. Porter, of Webster county, has made his district a faithful and intelligent representative in the Senate of Kentucky. He has not been as conspicuous as some with his mouth, but has gone along in his quiet, unassuming way and attended to his duties and looked out for the interests of his people. He was the author of the bill to extend the term of common schools of the State to six months in the year, which has passed both houses and has been signed by the Governor and is now a law of the State. This bill will be a monument to his memory and will be of incalculable benefit to the rising generation of the State. Senator Porter is a safe, conscientious, progressive man and his party and people will have further use for him, we predict."

ALLISON BOYD,

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made at Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. It is free of charge. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. bottle. POKES FUN

At Rolling Stock of the Cadiz Railroad.

An old time coach was received at the Illinois Central shops Sunday to be repaired. It came from the little Cadiz railroad.

The coach is a combination car, carrying three apartments, one for white passengers, one for colored passengers and the latter for baggage. The seats are constructed solely of wood and the car is a very dilapidated piece of mechanism. It was one of the first passenger coaches ever made in the South.

The Cadiz railroad is about ten miles long, extending from Cadiz to Gracely, Ky.—Paducah News-Democrat.

OCTOGENARIAN DEAD

Fluch Esteemed Woman Passes Away at Fairview.

Mrs. Lucinda Brown, widow of the late Julian Brown, died Monday afternoon at her home in Fairview, after an illness of several weeks from an affection of the kidneys.

She was 83 years old and had been a member of the Methodist church for a number of years. She is survived by four children, her husband having preceded her to the grave several years ago. The children are: Mrs. J. F. Harned, of Fairview, Thomas Brown, of Illinois; John W. Brown, of the Purchase, and Edward Brown, of Mayfield.

The deceased was formerly Miss Wilkins and she was an aunt of Mrs. F. M. Mullen and Mrs. M. J. Davis, of this city. She was the last surviving member of a large and prominent family.

Rev. A. D. Litchfield, of Pembroke, preached the funeral Tuesday afternoon and the interment took place in the Brown burying ground, near Fairview.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief is the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies, "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for liver and kidney troubles and all forms of stomach and bowel complaints. GEN. KING'S NEW BOOK.

Thrilling Romance of the War of the States.

Gen. Chas. King will have out a new novel from the press of The Hobart Co., 114 Fifth Avenue, New York, about March 15. It is called "A Knight of Columbia."

In this charming and romantic novel, Gen. King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. The hero, a graduate of Columbia College, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York City, on the occasion of Commencement Day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," delivered on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement, the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tense grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time "the truth about Chancellorsville," exonerating the ill-fated eleven corps from the odium that has all ways been heaped upon it, thus flatly contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilian. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York comes in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse the healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy.

LOCKED IN, WAS THIEF.

Who Made His Escape When Door Was Opened.

When Mr. J. T. Charlton, the Durrett avenue grocer, locked up his store to go to supper Tuesday night he also locked up a thief, who had secreted himself in the building before the door was closed. On the return of the proprietor to the store he found a negro in the act of breaking open the cash drawer. When the man saw the merchant he ran out and escaped. Mr. Nixon's bloodhounds were called into action in a short while, but no arrest has been made as yet.

What is Life?

Hardwick's drug store.

Never Saw One of His Children.

A genuine Yankee having borne a new-comer with every conceivable question relative to his object in visiting the gold country, his hopes, his means, and his prospects, at length asked him if he had a family. "Yes sir; I have a wife and six children and I never saw one of them." After this reply the two sat a few minutes in silence then the inquisitive man began again: "Was you ever blind, sir?" "No sir." "Did you marry a widow, sir?" "No sir." Another interval of silence. "Did I understand you to say, sir, that you had a wife and six children living in New York, and had never seen one of them?" "Yes, sir, I so stated it." Another, and a long pause. Then the Yankee recommenced: "How can it be, sir, that you never saw one of them?" "Why," was the reply, "One of them was born after I left."

FATALLY CRUSHED.

Trigg County Farmer Meets Horrible Death.

Mr. Dink Stephens, a farmer who lived in the edge of Trigg county, not far from Gracey, was the victim of an accident Tuesday afternoon which resulted in his death in a few hours. He was on a load of baled hay driving into a stable and was caught between the hay and the timber over the door. He was badly crushed and injured internally. Dr. D. E. Bell, of Gracey, was summoned and succeeded in restoring the injured man to consciousness, but he died about two o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Stephens was about forty years old and was a son-in-law of Mr. Sam Dillard, of this city.

BOLD ADMISSION.

Apostle Lyman Will Not Cease Practice of Polygamy.

Evidence Shows that the Mormon President Can Nullify Famous Manifesto of 1890.

Washington, March 9.—The star witness before the Senate committee investigating the right of Reed Smoot to a seat in the Senate yesterday afternoon, was a blunt-spoken, red-whiskered man, Francis M. Lyman, president of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon church, and the man chosen to be the successor of President Smith.

Lyman admitted that he was a polygamist; that he had three wives, with two of whom he was still living and that he expected to continue regardless of the law of the land or the rules of the church. His father had six wives and his earliest recollections embraced the life of polygamy, hence he has known nothing else and has felt that it was correct.

Will Disobey Laws.

When Senator Hoar asked him: "So you, an apostle of the church, expecting to succeed Mr. Smith in the presidency, and in that capacity to receive divine revelations yourselves, confess that you are now living and expect to continue to live in disobedience to the law of the country, the law of your church, and the law of God?" he firmly answered: "Yes."

Lyman admitted that five of the twelve apostles were polygamists, and that, despite the manifesto of 1890, the president of the church could issue authority upon an edict to perform plural marriages.

After much effort, a statement was obtained from the witness that he thought Senator Smoot was acquainted with the general reputation and accepted report that Mr. Lyman was living in polygamous cohabitation with his plural wives.

Merrill Family Numerous.

Charles F. Merrill, son of Apostle Merrill, while on the witness stand, when asked regarding his family, said he had two wives, one of whom he had married since the manifesto of 1890; that his father had six wives and that he had twenty brothers and seventeen sisters and more than 100 nephews and nieces. He said his father lived with his first wife and seldom visited his (witness) mother more than once a month. Three of his brothers, he said, had plural wives and two of his sisters have married into polygamous families.

STRONG HIT.

Alma Powell Scores in a Drama Now Being Presented at One of the New York Theaters.

Miss Alma Powell is the second Princeton girl to score on the New York stage, the other one being Miss Margaret Sayre, who made a metropolitan debut as a star a week ago.

A telegram from New York says: That one does not have to appear at the Broadway theaters to make a hit and be talked about is proved by Miss Alma Powell, a handsome young Southern woman, who is appearing in W. W. Taylor's scenic melodrama, "If Women Were Men." Miss Powell plays the role of a Southern society lady to whom fate has been unkind and when she first took it she was of the opinion that the part might be realistic. But the opposite was true and Broadway will see Miss Powell before long in drama.

Miss Powell was born at Princeton, Ky., and comes of old stock. When a child she took delight in church entertainments, and when she got into long skirts, devoted much of her time to amateur theatricals. Eventually she came to New York, where she took a two years course in a dramatic school.—Madisonville Hustler.

Charged With Abduction.

Clarksville, Tenn., March 9.—Betie Daniel, col., has been brought back to Clarksville from Hopkinsville, Ky. She is accused of having abducted a young girl named Sue Shelby for the purpose of prostitution. She will be held to the Criminal Court. The girl who was abducted was brought back home.

NOW READY.

T. C. Railroad Appoints St. Louis Freight Agent.

Traffic Manager Hinton Announces That the New Road is Now in Good Shape.

Traffic Manager E. H. Hinton, of the Tennessee Central Railroad, announces the appointment of E. J. Dowdall, of St. Louis, as general Western agent of the road, the appointment to be effective on April 1. He also announces the appointment of W. A. Beatty, of St. Louis, to be Southwestern Freight Agent of the road with headquarters at St. Louis. Mr. Dowdall will also have his headquarters at St. Louis and will have general supervision of the Tennessee Central's traffic in the West. He will have under his direction, three assistants: A Soliciting Freight Agent to travel in Northern Illinois, with headquarters at Chicago; a Traveling Freight Agent with headquarters at St. Louis and territory in Southern Illinois, and Mr. Beatty. The latter will travel in Arkansas, Texas and the South.

In appointing Mr. Dowdall, the Tennessee Central establishes for the first time its office in St. Louis. The step is significant of the intention of the road to enter aggressively into competition with other lines for freight.

Traffic Manager Hinton said this morning with regard to the new move:

"We are rapidly getting into first-class condition. We have a through continuous service between Nashville and Hopkinsville, with regular established freight schedules. We are going after business actively and aggressively."

"Our extended terminals in Nashville will soon be completed and the purpose of our outside agents is to make these terminal facilities in Nashville and business along the line generally available to the fullest possible extent."

The Tennessee Central will build up its already large business to the North and will establish itself as a distributor to Southern and Western points.

E. J. Dowdall, the new General Western Agent, is a young man of considerable experience in the work he will take up. He was formerly connected with the Illinois Central in St. Louis, and was at the time of his appointment by Mr. Hinton, soliciting freight agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, which position he had held for some years past. He is looked upon as one of the most successful freight gatherers in St. Louis, and is eminently fitted to hold the responsible position to which he has been appointed. His headquarters will be in the Chemical Building, which is located in the heart of the business section of St. Louis and contiguous to other railroad headquarters.

Mr. Beatty, his Southwestern soliciting agent, was formerly general freight agent for the Tennessee Central in Nashville and is a successful, practical railroad man. The position of general freight agent was abolished when Mr. Hinton was made traffic manager of the road.—Nashville News.

ONE CENT A MILE.

A rate of one cent a mile plus 25 cents has been made for the benefit of those who will attend the Confederate veterans reunion which will be held in Nashville June 14-16. This rate will hold good on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, the Louisville & Nashville and Tennessee Central roads and refers to points east of the Mississippi river. It is thought the same rate will be made for those who want to visit the World's Fair at St. Louis from this point, immediately after the reunion.—Nashville News.

Indian Skeleton.

Clarksville, Tenn., March 9.—W. F. Ford, of the Port Royal vicinity of this county, reports having unearthed a well-made Indian grave that contained a skeleton in a state of perfect preservation. The grave was made of solid slabs of stone, and the skeleton of a man presumably an Indian, was found upon the removal of the top.

BIRTH OF A SATELLITE.

Moon's Origin Different from That of Any Other Body.

The planets Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune have their satellites, and it would not be unusual to classify our own moon as simply one more in a series of objects with precisely similar histories. Of course, says Harper's Magazine, the earth is attended by a satellite, but best books of astronomy scarcely give sufficient emphasis to the fact that the earth and moon really do differ widely from other planets and satellites. The earth is, in fact, only 80 times as heavy as the moon, whereas Saturn is 4,500 times as heavy as its satellite Titan, itself by far the largest satellite in the solar system. It seems, then, that there may be reason to suspect that the mode of genesis of a satellite relatively so large as the moon may have differed materially from that of all other satellites. Such a suspicion is confirmed by the investigation of the

CURE FOR RINDERPEST.

An Interesting Experiment with Quinine
by Ryots in India.

An announcement made recently by Mr. Mukerji, M. A., deputy magistrate of Dumka, Santal Parganas, that the ignorant ryots of his district used quinine for the cure of rinderpest in cattle, with excellent results, created somewhat of a sensation in the agricultural and veterinary circles in India and Ceylon, says the Straits Echo. Mr. Mukerji claimed no merit of the discovery, which, like most important events, was the result of an accident. A santal of Dumka, who had been in the habit of buying quinine for fever from the local postmaster, wished to know if the medicine was good for cattle. The postmaster could not enlighten him, but the peasant was determined to try, arguing with strong prime knowledge that what was good for man was good for beast. He bought 40 grains and gave it to his cow. A few days afterward he reported a cure. Now, it so happened that the deputy magistrate of this out-of the way corner of Bengal is a gentleman who went through a special course of agriculture in the Sipur college, and did so well that he eventually became Holland gold medalist of the Royal Agricultural college, Chesham, and a fellow of the Highland and Agricultural society. Mr. Mukerji was naturally interested in the santal's experiment, and proceeded to investigate matters. He found that the cow had been suffering from rinderpest, and the quinine administered in the febrile stage of the disease effected a complete cure. He hastened to make the discovery public, remarking very pertinently that if segregation, injection of serum or expensive medicines can all be avoided and rinderpest actually cured by two annas' worth of quinine, the benefit to the country will be incalculable. In view of the enormous cattle mortality from rinderpest the virtue of quinine as a remedy should be thoroughly tested, says Indian Engineering, and a commission of inquiry appointed which might really mark an era in veterinary science in India.

PROFITS OF FAMOUS SONG.

Only $50 for Composer of "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

The death of Hart Pease Danks at Philadelphia the other day recalls the history of his most popular song, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," says the New York Sun.

This song, according to an old friend of Danks, Tom Moore, was composed about 1870 and was published in 1873 by Charles H. Harris. It sprang into popularity at once and had a sale of more than 100,000 copies.

Danks was often credited as having written the words as well as the music, but the real author of the words was Eben E. Rexford.

At first Danks was unable to procure a market for the song and in sheer desperation thrust it into a bureau drawer. One day he came across the manuscript and submitted it to Harris, who realized its merits and published it.

Mr. Moore says that Danks received only $50 for it, dividing the money with Rexford. The song became popular in a night and was used by all the well-known minstrel troupes throughout the country. Harris made a fortune out of it.

It is said that Mrs. Rexford's mother inspired the song. She had luxurious golden hair as a girl, and as she grew older it became sprinkled with gray. Rexford wrote a number of other songs, but none of them ever attained the popularity that "Silver Threads Among the Gold" did.

The song has been copyrighted again and is still selling.

Unique Walking Match.

A unique walking match has taken place in Cardiff. The competitors were a professional pedestrian and a sweep. The latter, in consideration of a ten-minute's start in ten miles, undertook to push a truck laden with a sack of soot and his brushes. He won by 60 yards.

world and some others are lucky to get trusted.

A CRYBABY

generally has something to cry for.
It is as natural for a sickly baby to cry as it is for a healthy baby to laugh. But who is to blame for the baby's ill-health? The mother generally. Baby's strength must come from her, and when she is weak and suffering she has no strength to give her child. Many mothers testify that their children were sickly until Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was used during the period before the baby's coming.
"Favorite Prescription" makes the mother strong. It gives her strength to give her child. Beyond all this the use of "Favorite Prescription" reduces the pain and strain of maternity, making
the baby's advent practically painless.

The reason for this is that
"Favorite Prescription" makes the mother strong. It gives her strength to give her child. Beyond all this the use of "Favorite Prescription" reduces the pain and strain of maternity, making
the baby's advent practically painless.

"I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' the first month when I expected to become a mother," writes Mrs. R. P. Redford, of Rockville, Va.
When I had taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of Golden Medical Discovery, there was a fine baby girl born to us. Instead of two and three days and nights of suffering the greatest agony that one could suffer, as I had always had before, with all the help the doctor and all those around me could do, I was only sick about five hours and had very little pain at all. I am the mother of ten children, and this one is the finest and most healthy of them all, and a very pretty child too. I don't know how to express my thanks to you for your advice. I insist that all suffering mothers try Dr. Pierce's medicines and be convinced."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.
